

Alex: Hey, Marie, you catch the Ligue 1 match between PSG and Lyon last weekend?

Marie: Yeah, it was intense! PSG pulled off a 3-1 win, but Lyon put up a good fight. Mbappé was on fire with that brace.

Alex: Totally! His second goal was pure class—dribbled past two defenders like they weren't even there. Lyon's Lacazette scored a nice header, though.

Marie: True, but their defense crumbled late. Did you see Monaco's game? They beat Marseille 2-0. Ben Yedder's still got it.

Alex: For sure. Monaco's looking strong this season, maybe even a title contender. PSG's still the team to beat, but I'm curious how Lille does against them next week.

Marie: Oh, Lille's got some grit. If they tighten up at the back, they might nick a draw. What do you think about the new coach at Saint-Étienne?

Alex: Too early to tell, but their draw against Nice was promising. Ligue 1's shaping up to be wild this year!
